

SENATE AFTER WIRE CONTROL REPEAL

Post-Bomb Pondering :-:

View of front of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer's home, Washington, showing ruin wrought by bomb which exploded before front steps.

It is believed that the man blown to atoms by the bomb which partially wrecked the home of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer has been identified by authorities. He is believed to be the man who carried the bomb to the house. It is thought he tripped over the terrace and fell, the jar setting off the bomb. His identity will be used to aid officials in running down his accomplices in the plot. Neither Palmer nor Mrs. Palmer were at home when the bomb exploded.

DRAMATIC CLASH IN SENATE OVER ALLEGED LEAK OF TREATY TERMS

HITCHCOCK AND LODGE FIGHT IT OUT OVER INVESTIGATION.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Investigation of how copies of the peace treaty reached New York, was taken up in the senate today after a dramatic clash between Mr. Hitchcock and Chairman Lodge of the foreign relations committee, which ended in the chairman withdrawing his request that an investigation resolution prepared by Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota, be substituted.

The "Hitchcock resolution," Mr. Lodge said, had the appearance of having been "hastily drawn."

It has been stated authoritatively that Senator Hitchcock introduced his resolution at the request of the White House, but it is understood the "leakage" was his own. Senator Kellogg is said to have prepared his resolution before that of Mr. Hitchcock was introduced.

Senator Hitchcock's resolutions came into the senate today from the contingent expenses committee, where it was referred back to an investigation provision for paying for an investigation.

"I regret that the enthusiasm of the senate for an investigation seems to be cooling," said Mr. Hitchcock. "The senator need not be disturbed; he will get all the investigation he desires," rejoined Mr. Lodge.

In the substitute prepared by Senator Kellogg, there was no mention by name of Senators Lodge and Borah and Senator Hitchcock suggested that Mr. Lodge now wanted to investigate somebody else instead of taking responsibility for his own statements.

After a sharp reply in which Mr. Lodge declared he wanted to be investigated and had no intention of investigating anybody else, the matter was referred to the committee on the floor.

Immediately afterward, the resolution of Senator Johnson, asking the treaty text, came up automatically and it was adopted in a similar manner. For each vote there were scarcely a score of senators in the chamber, whether the senate request has not been announced and it is generally assumed that the question will be referred to the president and Secretary Lansing at Paris.

Under the Hitchcock measure, it is expected that an exhaustive investigation, possibly involving the summoning of members of the peace commission, will be made.

WILSON SAYS TREATY FOLLOWS 14 POINTS

PARIS, June 6.—"I am convinced that our treaty projects violate none of my principles," President Wilson is quoted by the Matin as having said when he was made acquainted with the German counter proposals to the peace treaty. "If I held a contrary opinion I would not hesitate to correct the error. The treaty as drawn up, however, entirely conforms with my 14 points."

SENATE ASKS FOR COPY OF TREATY

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The resolution of Senator Johnson, republican, of California, requesting the state department to furnish the senate with a copy of the German peace treaty was adopted today by the senate without a roll call, without further debate and with only a handful of senators present.

WESTERN UNION HEAD RULES ON STRIKERS

NEW YORK, June 6.—Employees of the Western Union Telegraph company, who joined the telegraphers union on the assurance of the postmaster-general, that there would be no discrimination in regard to employees joining unions, will not be taken back if they strike, Newcomb Carlton, president of the company, announced today. He pointed out that the postmaster-general now had turned the Western Union over to the company "to operate as we think best for the interest of the business."

Mr. Carlton said that out of 40,000 employees only 710 belonged to the union and that the call for a strike in the southern division was meeting with practically no response.

WALSH DEMANDS IRISH INVESTIGATION

PARIS, June 6.—Frank P. Walsh, delegate of Irish societies in the United States, has presented a demand to President Wilson that the peace conference investigate the Irish question. His demand is accompanied by a six thousand word report on the observations made by Mr. Walsh and his colleagues, Michael J. Ryan and Edward F. Dunne, during their visit to Ireland.

Local Pastors Attend Milwaukee Meeting

At a joint meeting of State Home Mission committees of the Presbyterian and Congregational churches in Milwaukee this week it was decided to federate the home mission work of these two bodies in the entire state.

The inter-church world movement is also holding a meeting in Milwaukee today and Saturday. The meeting is to organize the church federation work in Wisconsin. Some of the local clergy who plan to attend the convention are Rev. James A. Molloy, Rev. F. P. Lewis and Rev. Perry Mueller.

Children's Day to Be Observed Sunday

Children's Day is Sunday. At the Federated church the morning service will be devoted to the children's program. Songs and recitations, will be given by the children of the primary department. There will be a baptism of infants, also.

IRISH DELEGATION'S REQUEST TAKEN UP

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Senator Borah's resolution asking the American peace delegates at Paris to secure a hearing before the peace conference for the Irish delegates, headed by Edward De Valera, provisional president of the Irish republic, was adopted today by the senate, 60 to 1; Senator Williams, democrat of Mississippi, cast the negative vote.

The resolution expressed the sympathy of the senate in the aspirations of the Irish people for "a government of its own people."

COSTA RICANS DRIVE OUT INVADING FORCES

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The invading forces have been completely driven out of Costa Rican territory and have taken refuge in Nicaragua, said a cablegram received today by Carlos Arias, Costa Rican representative here. The message further stated it was believed the Nicaraguan government would concentrate against the forces and thus prevent the shedding of blood and the stirring up of hatred between the two republics.

Annual W. C. T. U. Picnic to Be June 17

Plans for the annual W. C. T. U. picnic are now being made. The picnic will be a county affair and will be held at the county farm, Tuesday afternoon, June 17. Following the picnic on the lawn of the county farm, a number of the county will give one number on the program.

The picnic has been held for a number of years.

Huns' Teeth Pull 'Em Out! Ache Some

BERLIN, June 6.—Fearful nervousness and depression which manifest themselves in toothache, rheumatism, various ailments and in sleeplessness are afflicting German delegates at Versailles, according to the correspondent of the Berlin Gazette, and which he whimsically terms "tropical madness."

The first to be affected was a surgeon who fell ill with a raging toothache and intense nervousness. Then a councillor attached to the delegation caught the strange malady and insisted on having a gramophone play during conferences he attended. He wanted American records principally.

"The food," the correspondent says, "is getting on everyone's nerves. It is a wire enclosure that makes every one wild."

Sun Repeal Wins Favor

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Favorable report on the bill to repeal the daylight saving law on the last Sunday in October was voted today by the house interstate commerce committee.

WINNIPEG MAYOR PUTS END TO MOBS AND STREET PARADES

WINNIPEG, Man., June 6.—In a formal proclamation published this morning, Mayor Charles F. Gray ordered the stoppage of all parades and forbade the congregation of crowds on the city streets.

"By virtue of the authority vested in me, I do hereby order that all persons do refrain from forming or taking part in any parade or congregating in crowds in or upon any of the streets of the city of Winnipeg and do hereby request of all law abiding citizens to full compliance with this proclamation."

(Signed) CHARLES F. GRAY, Mayor of Winnipeg.

MAJOR GRAY SAID HE ACTED IN THE INTEREST OF LAW AND ORDER AND WITH THE HOPE OF PREVENTING BLOODSHED, IF POSSIBLE. IT IS UNDERSTOOD THE MAYOR LEARNED THAT A CLASH BETWEEN PARADES OF STRIKERS AND OF RETURNED SOLDIERS WOULD BE INEVITABLE TODAY, IF BOTH FLOCKS CARRIED OUT PARADE PLANS WHICH WOULD HAVE BROUGHT THE RIVAL PROCESSIONS TOGETHER.

Officials of the city hall and executives of the Winnipeg citizens committee, commented upon the action of local strike leaders in sending a national call for men prominent in the union movement to come to Winnipeg immediately. The declaration was made quite generally that the Winnipeg leaders were finding it increasingly difficult to hold the strikers in check and to keep the conservative element from returning to work.

"Scores of men have come to my office and hundreds have been anxious to go to work but they fear the wrath of the big five," said Mayor Gray. "Men, with tears in their eyes, at bread and milk plants, have begged me to stay on the job but that they were afraid of consequences which might be inflicted upon themselves and their families."

Last night the central strike committee of the union men at creameries and bakeries, "walked out of their own accord."

This announcement was authorized by the citizens committee of one thousand.

"The national call for help by the local labor leaders seems to be the signing of the death warrant for the city. The big union general strikes in different provinces and the failure to precipitate strikes in a number of cities, it seems quite plain that the Winnipeg agitators realize the fate of the big union movement is hanging in the balance. Winnipeg merchants and manufacturers know that thousands of union workers are ready to return to their jobs. Fear of violence has halted them."

Returned soldier constables were on duty this forenoon. For the first time since the strike began on May 13, squads of street cleaners were in action. Newspapers again were sold in the business district. Deliveries of bread were made with the protection of constables and milk was sold at municipal stations in the city schools.

Acting upon reports that the radical element involved in the Winnipeg general strike was threatening to launch a terrorism, the Winnipeg city government today decided to increase its special constable force to three thousand men, mostly returned soldiers. One thousand constables have been sworn in, it was announced.

Soldiers Make Appeal

City officials constructed the appeal for national assistance which they sent out, as an invitation for all classes of radicals to come to Winnipeg. Several thousand returned soldiers, opposed to the strike, held their second meeting today and threats were openly made that unless certain of the strike leaders are taken to task today, "the town square will be heard from."

A printed declaration in the strike bulletin that "gunmen imported from the United States" were on their way to Winnipeg to oppose the striking forces and precipitate trouble, was branded as false at the city hall.

Will Mail Copies of Report to Other Cities

A pamphlet containing the report of the Chamber of Commerce for its first year is being prepared and as soon as completed will be mailed out to every member of the organization. A number of cities have requested copies of the report and arrangements are being made to fill all these requests. The booklet will be entitled, "Doing It the Janesville Way."

Girl Becomes Editor of Student College Paper

SILLWATER, Okla., June 6.—A precedent was broken at the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College here at the annual student election when Miss Grace Sneyers, of Carmen, was elected editor of the 1919-1920 Orange and Black, the student weekly paper. It is the first time that a girl has been elected to the position.

Will Mail Copies of Report to Other Cities

A pamphlet containing the report of the Chamber of Commerce for its first year is being prepared and as soon as completed will be mailed out to every member of the organization. A number of cities have requested copies of the report and arrangements are being made to fill all these requests. The booklet will be entitled, "Doing It the Janesville Way."

Green Reappointed

J. P. Cullen was re-elected president and Frank J. Green was appointed to succeed himself as manager for the coming year at a special meeting of the new board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon. The remaining officers were re-elected as follows: A. J. Gibbons, first vice-president; William McVicar, second vice-president; H. S. Haggart, secretary-treasurer.

Ed H. Jackson was named to succeed F. B. Buss as chairman of the members' council. Mr. Buss has just been elected a director of the chamber.

Election of officers was the main business transacted yesterday. Another meeting of the directors will be held next week at which time a definite program of work for the coming year will be outlined.

DELIVERIES BY AIRPLANE DUE TUESDAY

SOCIETY BRAND MACHINE WILL LAND AT FAIR GROUNDS.

GAZETTE TO ISSUE AIRPLANE EDITION

Miss Harriette Wheaton of Editorial Staff Will Accompany Aviator on Flight To Madison.

Preparations have been completed for the arrival here of the first commercial airplane express driven by Lieut. David Benhke, Chicago. The airplane will reach Janesville at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, landing at the fair grounds.

Louis Levy, manager of the Golden Eagle, who is receiving a shipment of Society Brand clothes via the airplane has charge of the arrangements. He announced today that a parade will be held prior to the arrival of the machine. The parade will be led by Professor Coles' band of the World's Fair shows.

According to the information received by Mr. Levy the machine will leave Chicago early Tuesday morning.

ARRIVAL MAIL EDITION

Arrangements have been completed by the Gazette for a special airplane mail edition to be delivered in Evansville, Tuesday, by Lieut. Benhke, who will be accompanied on his flight from Janesville by Miss Harriette Wheaton, of the Gazette editorial staff. The Gazette's first airplane edition will be delivered to the Evansville subscribers a few minutes after it leaves the press in Janesville.

Miss Harriette Wheaton who is to make the trip with Lieut. Benhke will carry an invitation from the local Elks to Gov. Emanuel Philipp, arriving him to Janesville to attend the Flag Day exercises next week.

with merchandise for Beloit, Janesville and Madison. Lieut. Benhke who is in charge of the machine was formerly in charge of the testing and inspection of a ferry airplane.

New Machine.

Lieut. Benhke is driving a J-N4 recently purchased by the Alfred Decker & Cohn company, makers of Society Brand clothes, for the express purpose of delivering mail to various points throughout Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana.

The machine, a checker-board affair is capable of traveling 100 miles an hour with a 250 pound load, exclusive of the driver.

Mr. Levy said that according to information received by him the plane would arrive about 1 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon and would remain here until 2:30 o'clock.

Janesville residents will have their first opportunity of viewing a plane landing in this city. Never before in the history of airplanes has a machine landed in Janesville and one of the largest crowds that ever thronged the fair grounds is expected to be on hand.

Will Hold Parade.

The delivering of merchandise in Janesville from Chicago via airplane is distinctly an innovation.

A parade is being planned by Mr. Levy and it is hoped that all owners of automobiles assemble at the City Hall at 12:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon to participate in the parade. It is the desire of Mr. Levy to welcome Lieut. Benhke in a fitting manner. Lieut. Benhke will be greeted upon his arrival by Mayor Thomas Welsh and Mr. Levy.

Senate Will See Treaty

PARIS, June 6.—It is understood here that the Berlin government is sending photographic reproductions of the peace terms to every United States senator and representative.

PAN-AMERICANISM ENCOURAGED IN NEWS INTERCHANGE BY A. P.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Frank B. Noyes, president of the Associated Press, told the pan-American conference today that the exchange of "true ungarbled and unbiased news" between the North and South American continents, now being brought about by the membership of South American newspapers in the organization would be a most effective in cultivating and maintaining the relations of friendship and affection that should exist between the two continents of this hemisphere. He said that the public relations agents that could be put to work.

Mr. Noyes explained how the Associated Press, probably the most notable co-operative effort now functioning, was in no sense a governmental agency, is forbidden by its charter to make or distribute profits and has always refused to handle propaganda, believing that its function was to serve its members without bias so far as what is humanly possible. This appealed to some of the most important South American newspapers and they were received in the organization not as customers or clients but as full members of the cooperative organization.

Extend Press Service.

"It is a matter of pride to the Associated Press," said he, "that this institution should have been so widely accepted and that we now list among our members the most important journals in the countries to the south of the United States, for we have had members in Mexico and Cuba for years."

"The basis of our relationship with our new members are those of equality, of mutual respect, of full confidence. Our South American members know that the news report sent them will be straight news with no ulterior purpose and we have the same belief as to the news coming north."

Mr. Noyes said he was clear to the interest of the Associated Press that this conference is discussing what is purely platonic. Any aid to general buying and selling that this fellowship in effort of the newspapers of North and South America brings will be only a by-product of a relation that has no such object in mind as an incentive to commerce.

Equality, Lack of Commerce.

"I may with propriety say, however, that the growth in commerce that you are planning for must be built on the foundation stones of the relations of our new and old members—equality, mutual respect, full confidence. While our organization will therefore have only a sympathetic outlook in the progress you seek to accomplish the work we are doing is of immense importance to you."

"We are making peoples know each other, and each other's habits, know each other's likes and dislikes, virtues and follies. It is only within the last few weeks that the people of this country have learned through the Associated Press that football is an international sport in South America. This may seem supremely unimportant but it is not. It is very important, for it goes to the vitals of a mutual understanding and sympathy."

Wednesday a cable came from Brazil, saying that a football team from Bethlehem, Pa., had accepted an invitation to visit Brazilian cities and that it was a fitting manner. Lieut. Benhke's football association had under consideration an invitation to send a team to the next South American championship tournament to be held here when we play football together we are making progress."

News Bureaus Strengthened.

"The beginning of the flow of our news, from north to south and south to north, each other's news, is a great strengthening of our bureaus in South America and is now, having a collateral effect in causing a more energetic collection of news from Spain and Portugal in the power of which countries our new members are especially interested."

"I would have you know that the North American members of the Associated Press are enthusiastically well come to the ranks of the organization the new members from the south. We greatly prize the friendships that are growing up from this association, we are proud of these friendships and we are proud of the new members who are fellow members and we hope and believe that they too regard us as friends and comrades."

"I am sure that I am speaking for our South American as well as the North American members in saying that we wish you God speed in your work. We hope with you for an increasing stream of news of the world's happenings, its accomplishments and its failings shall flow between the two continents so that our peoples shall know each other better, feeling sure that as they know each other they will like each other more and more."

BURLESON'S ORDER IS QUESTIONED

CONGRESSMEN CHARGE HE WAS MERELY "PASSING THE BUCK."

LEGISLATORS TO BACK UP ACT

Postmaster-General Declares His Edict Was Misconstrued.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Unanimous decision to press legislation for repeal of the wire control resolution despite Postmaster-General Burleson's order returning telegraph operation was reached today by the senate interstate commerce committee. Chairman Cummings announced that the bill would be called up in the senate next week.

After a further hearing today, however, the committee amended the bill so as to continue existing telephone rates in effect for 90 days after the wires are turned back instead of 60 days as originally proposed.

Mr. Burleson today sent to Chairman Cummings a letter declaring that his order yesterday had been misconstrued; that he had not turned back the wires to private ownership and that no such action was contemplated. Postmaster-General Burleson's order was attacked today by members of congress who charged that the order was "passed the buck" because of the threatened nationwide strike of members of the Commercial Telegraphers union of America.

Strike Is Ordered.

Immediately after Mr. Burleson's order was issued last night, S. J. Konenkamp, president of the telegraphers union, ordered a strike of members of the union employed by the Western Union Telegraph company in the 10 southeastern states and reports from the chief cities in that territory today showed that scores of operators as well as some clerks and messengers had quit their posts. Officials of the company at Atlanta said that with the wires again under company operation there would be a finish fight, while those of the union intimated that if necessary a nationwide strike would be called.

Meantime republican leaders planned to press for action pending legislation repealing the resolutions under which the government took control of the wire companies and the senate interstate commerce committee today continued hearings on the repeal measures with N. C. Kingsbury, vice-president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, as a witness.

MORE.

Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota, author of the repeal bill, told the committee the postmaster-general's order only restored private operation and did not end government control and that consequently the repeal bill should be enacted as speedily as possible.

N. C. Kingsbury, vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, appeared before the committee to urge legislation definitely continuing existing telephone rates until state commissions have time to pass on them. Mr. Kingsbury was questioned at length by members of the committee as to the result of Mr. Burleson's order.

Kellogg Inquisitive.

"The postmaster-general turned back responsibility and kept control. Is that the effect?" asked Senator Kellogg.

"So in effect discontinued the board of control," replied Mr. Kingsbury. "The operating control is now with officials of the companies who are operating the lines as agents of the government," asked Senator Kellogg.

"No," the witness replied. "I don't think that is quite fair. He has done what he has done as a result of this order the companies now report direct to wire control board."

"Then Mr. Burleson goes on just the same as he has been doing?" the Minnesota senator asked.

"Back at the Old Place."

"We are just where we were when the wires were first taken over," Mr. Kingsbury answered.

"Then he has not turned back the wires at all," asserted Senator Kellogg. "Wasn't the order issued for the purpose of passing the buck on the strike?" asked Senator Watson, republican of Indiana.

"I don't know," the witness answered.

Mr. Kingsbury said the "heiding" on the announcement by the post office department to the effect that the wires would be turned back to the private control was misleading and such was not the effect of the order.

SKIDD CO. INCREASES CAPITAL TO $200,000

The Charles Skidd Manufacturing company, makers of creamery supplies, has increased its capital stock from $150,000 to $200,000, according to an amendment to the articles of incorporation filed today with Register of Deeds P. P. Smiley. The amendment, voted at a meeting of stockholders, is signed by Charles Skidd, president, and Peter V. Kuhn, secretary.

"DONT'S" FOR CAMPERS TO PREVENT FIRES

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Washington, June 6.—The time to stop the forest fires is right now, says an announcement from the American Forestry association, but not having any. The fire in Minnesota last week, which cost the public mind and when it is estimated that the fire loss in 1918 was $28,500,000 and that 8,400,000 acres were burned, every precaution should be taken by summer campers, says the association, which is getting contributions from all over the country to help in its work of reforesting the devastated areas of France and England. Don't that should be posted up on every tent flap:
Don't throw your match away until you are sure it is out.
Don't drop cigarettes or cigar butts until the glow is extinguished.
Don't knock out your pipe ashes while hot or where they will fall into dry leaves or other inflammable material.
Don't build a camp fire against a tree, a log, or a stump, or anywhere but on bare soil.
Don't build a camp fire any larger than it is absolutely until you are sure it is out; if necessary smother it with earth or water.
Don't burn brush or refuse in or near the woods if there is any chance of a fire spreading beyond your control, or that the wind may carry sparks where they would start a new fire.
Don't be any more careless with fire in the woods than you are with fire in your own home.
Don't be idle when you discover a fire in the woods; if you can't put it out yourself get help. When a fire is under control, or state fire warden can be reached call him up on the nearest telephone you can find.
Don't forget that human thoughtlessness and negligence are the cause of more than half of the forest fires in this country, and that the smallest spark may start a conflagration that will result in loss of life and destruction of timber and young growth valued not only for lumber but for their influence in helping to prevent flood, erosion and drought.
Plans are under way for policing the forests with aeroplanes and wireless to aid in the fight against fire's destruction, but the association points out that the old ounce of prevention still beats the pound of cure in the forests, now being fast depleted, as well as anywhere else.

MERCHANTS ASKED TO DECORATE FOR SHOWS

One of the big features of the World's Fair shows as announced today is Professor Coles' concert band. The band recently engaged by the carnival company will give two concerts daily on the downtown streets, one at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and another at 7 o'clock in the evening. Professor Coles' band has played for the past five years in Kansas City and last season toured the United States. The band has made two complete tours of the world.
Local merchants are asked to decorate their places for the big celebration next week. Purple and white, the Elks colors, should be displayed on every downtown business house during the week. It is going to be a gala week for Janesville with something doing every minute from Monday night until Saturday night.
Dr. Emil Schwieger, chairman of the Elks committee in charge of the carnival said today that it would be necessary to have members of the Elks take tickets at all the shows and riddle games. He said 15 ticket takers were necessary for each night and asks that Elks who can volunteer their services notify him or sign the list of the clubrooms.

NEW GROCERY STORE WILL OPEN SATURDAY

Everything is in readiness for the grand opening of the new grocery store to be operated by the Universal Grocery company, 151 Main Street. The opening will be held tomorrow morning. C. E. Hommel, manager, announced today everything was ready.
The new store with its motto, "Janesville's first real cash and carry grocery," is branch 161. The stores are scattered throughout the middle west. There are only two other Universal Grocery stores in Wisconsin, one at Beaver Dam and another at Madison.
Mr. Hommel said that the plan of the company was to sell for cash without any deliveries. If buyers wish their purchases delivered they will be required to pay an additional amount.

CLASS OF 17 TO BE CONFIRMED, SUNDAY

BIRD ENTHUSIASTS TO GO ON ALL DAY HIKE

An all-day hike for the study of birds will be taken under the leadership of Dr. J. H. Henshaw, a party of 100 interested in birds is invited to go on the hike; each one bringing his own lunch. The hikers will start out at 9 o'clock in the morning. Those on the hike will meet at the Elks club and those living on the west side of the river will meet at the Washington school.
Mr. Pond requests that all bring bird guides.

MINNESOTA FIRM IS "CALLED" BY U. S.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, June 6.—The Pan-Minnesota company of St. Cloud, Minn., and its president Samuel C. Pandolfo, were cited today by the federal trade commission to answer a complaint, the first issued in the government's campaign to clean up the interstate sale of stocks and securities. Hearings will be held here July 10.
The commission stated in the complaint that it has reason to believe the concern, which, it alleges, had taken in $4,723,811 from the sale of stock from its incorporation in January 1917 to February 28, 1919, and its president, have used the effect of deceiving the public, circulated throughout the country, false, misleading and unfair advertisements and statements concerning the assets, resources, progress and financial standing of the company.

BIGGEST JOKE IN BADGER IS BLOTCH OF INK IN BARROOM

Madison, June 6.—The biggest joke in this year's Badger, the annual publication of the University of Wisconsin, slipped in intentionally—just before the Victory publication was to be distributed to 3,000 students waiting in line outside the hall.
Now page 61 of the big book is the center of all interest for it is a two great ink blotches, the order of student work censor, Prof. Warner Taylor, who kept the long list waiting for the white-coated summer. He hurriedly dug up brushes and printers ink to make the "corrections."
Page 61 is a full-sized cut captioned "N. E. and July 1st." It shows a barroom with great kegs, schooners of beer, free lunch, "every thing." But the sign on the wall is blotched out, and instead of a head, the barkeep has a great ink blotch.
The decorated barkeep—previous to the censoring—bore a great likeness to Prof. Louis Kalenberg, who was represented as presiding over the keg and dispensing the "free lunch." But Not Kalenberg Kalenberg "Koolkalis."
Neither censor nor student managers of the periodical would venture information as to how and why the page was not given the double ink blotch to the printers. It is rumored the censor is starting an investigation.

YANK OFFICER STUDENTS VISIT HISTORIC POINTS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, June 6.—Two thousand young American military officers, who have been detached from their commands in order that they may attend lectures in the leading universities of the British Isles, are broadening their knowledge by seeing some of the country's historic points of interest with which the country abounds.

London is their favorite "hunting" ground. Westminster Abbey, Paul's cathedral, the Houses of Parliament, the Tower and Buckingham Palace early claimed their attention. They then turned to the haunts of Dickens, Johnson, and others whom they looked upon as old friends.

Now that spring has come they are extending their search to the London suburbs and to other parts of the country.
Numbers of the student officers sought such places as Hampton court, its lawns, its famous, the world over for their varied and beautiful foliage. Many of them are engineers, and with a thrifty thought over their ture slung their cameras over their shoulders and prepared to preserve for future reference such bits of landscape gardening as caught their individual fancy. But in this they were disappointed, for the ancient but polite guardian at the gate temporarily collected the cameras and told them Sunday photography was forbidden in New.

Journeys into Scotland and Ireland interested many of the men and they return to London as a rule, pleased with the people and with their treatment. A dozen or more of them spent Sunday at Killarney, a beautiful and delectable spot, and for a day and night arranged with their landlord for donkeys at $1.25 each for the journey of six "Irish" miles. They then reached the gap they were hailed with delight by the donkey boys who, seeing they were Americans and believing that Americans carried nothing but gold pieces in their pockets, offered them a ride for a walk party, walked through the gap.

Manchester, Birmingham, Leeds and Liverpool, with their great manufactures and shipping, interested most officers who are studying industrial and commercial questions, while the fishing industry of the North Sea port is attracting others. In the last few days they admit the trips are much more for pleasure than they are for profit.
The lectures will continue through June and by that time some of the more industrious travelers predict, they will know a good deal about Great Britain and that, they explain is why they were sent here.

WHEAT SUPPLY SHORT IN EUROPEAN RUSSIA

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Omsk, June 6.—If the Omsk government succeeds in clearing its Russia wheat supply this year it will be barely able to meet the demands for grain to supply the people, according to M. Petrov, minister of agriculture. He bases his estimate on the fact that the wheat crop in the district will be 30 percent below normal, although the Siberian crop will be 17 percent larger than last year. It is proposed to use the surplus wheat in Siberia to meet the deficit in European Russia.

It is said that quite a proportion of the wheat crop of the past three years is still to be threshed in outlying districts that the transport facilities were such that the grain could not be brought to market and the additional consideration that there was no currency for the purchase of grain. The wheat may be made available for the coming year. Harvesting machinery now lying in Archangel has been ordered to Siberia and it is expected to arrive in time for the harvest.
In 1917 there were 5,920,000 acres of wheat in Siberia, exclusive of the Urals, Turkestan and Yakutsk districts. The only districts requiring government aid are Orenburg, Omsk, and Semiretschensk.

INDIANS GIVE WAR DANCE FOR RETURNED HEROES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Valley Junction, June 6.—Winnebago Indians encamped near here celebrated the return of three of their brave men, members of the 42nd division, who had fought the war dance that made the usual Wild West show variety seem tame by comparison. A portion of it was witnessed by a newspaper man from Lakeview who happened to be in the vicinity of the celebration. The returning heroes were Hugh Lone Tree, John White Eagle, and Leo White Eagle. They had seen service in France and one of them, a husband of a war widow, was decorated with the khaki uniform of Uncle Sam had two wound chevrons on his right arm.
Incidentally the newspaper man, who had been an ensign in the navy during the war, wandered into the chief's wigwam in search of information. The excited redskin grew more excited than ever making it necessary for the ex-governor to beat a retreat before he was threatened with a spear. It was plain to be seen that he wasn't wanted.
Rain in the face, another Winnebago, was not so tongue-tied as most of them, however. He gave all the information wanted and incidentally announced that August 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19 a national pow-wow of the Winnebagoes, the Chippewas, the Iroquois, the Sioux, the Nebraskas, the Cherokees and other tribes would be held there. It will be, he said, a national Indian celebration for all of the returned heroes who helped to humble the haughty Germans.

Fall 1,000 Feet From Airplane—Not Injured

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Rockford, Ill., June 6.—To fall 1,000 feet in an airplane and come out unharmed is the exploit of a young man, C. D. Cannon. They were on the first lap of a flight from Fort Snelling, Minn., to Rockford in a machine they had purchased at auction from the bankrupted and crashed airplane, which had crashed in a swamp. Word of the accident was received here, where Cannon resides. Both were discharged from the army. They expect to attempt the flight again as soon as their plane is repaired.

PEACE and— WAR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Hope is expressed in peace conference circles in Paris that the allied rejoinder to the German counter proposals will be ready for presentation today. It is understood that with this reply the Germans also will receive notification that the discussion has been finally closed and will be more than five in which to accept or reject the treaty.

If this plan is carried out, therefore, it seems probable Germany's position will be made known not later than Saturday, June 14.
Reports from Paris indicate that immediately after receiving the allied reply Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau will go to Berlin where he will hold a final consultation with Philipp Scheidemann, the chancellor. Should Germany decide to sign the treaty the allied conference will be adjourned, but should Germany determine upon a rejection notification will be sent to the peace conference from Berlin.

Dispatches state that the Council of Four has decided to refuse Germany's request that a new sum for reparations be included in the treaty. Nothing is known as to the reason for the refusal to name the sum, which news reports had forecast at approximately $25,000,000,000. Austrian peace activities seem likely to be renewed at St. Germain tomorrow. Dr. Karl Krenner, the head of the Austrian delegation, has been at the conference at Salzburg since Dr. Otto Bauer, the Austrian foreign minister, and is expected to be back in St. Germain Saturday.

As reflecting Austrian official opinion on the subject of the treaty, the head of the Austrian delegation, Dr. Otto Bauer, is quoted as stating that the terms could not be enforced upon the Austrian people and that it would be a disgrace for the man who signed the treaty.

Formal protest has been made by Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau as to the alleged activities of the allied armies on occupation in furthering the movement for the establishment of a Polish republic.

Premier Paderewski of Poland has made representations before the Council of Four regarding the proposed changes in the frontier between Germany and Poland. Important alterations in the boundaries are said to be under consideration and efforts are being made to induce the allies to continue the sovereignty of Silesia.

CABLE PHONE FROM CUBA TO KEY WEST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
San Juan, Porto Rico, June 6.—Direct telephone service between Key West and Havana will be a reality by December, according to Col. Sotheby Behn, who announces that the submarine telephone cable connecting the mainland and Cuba which was planned before the war will be laid within the next few months.

At present the most prominent American and English engineers are working on the scheme, according to Colonel Behn, and the laying of the cable will be commenced this summer. The submarine telephone from Cuba to Key West, according to the plan, is but the first leg of a cable system which in time will connect all of Greater Antilles.

"The development of the telephone for use in the navy for a submarine telephone cable system which three years ago was not dreamed of," said Colonel Behn. "The first leg of the system from Key West to Havana, in itself, will be the longest submarine telephone in the world. At present the submarine telephone across the English Channel is the longest."

Mr. Behn was president of the Cuban Telephone company when the United States entered the war. He volunteered and was commissioned a captain in the army signal corps. He is connected with banking interests in Cuba.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE TO BE SPREAD ABROAD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, June 6.—The first step toward the formation of an international anti-saloon league was taken today by the national convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America when a tentative constitution for the international organization was submitted to the convention by a special committee composed of representatives of the American league and foreign prohibition organizations.
The proposed legislation provides for effective co-operation in the movement for world-wide prohibition.

Grain of Corn Kills Boy Helping Dad in Fields

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
St. Louis, Mo., May 6.—A grain of corn lodged in the windpipe of Paul Dorias, Jr., five-year-old son of Mr. Dorias, caused his death at the Jewish hospital.
The child was playing in a field with two playmates and had shelled some corn, placing the grains in his mouth. A remark made by one of his playmates caused him to laugh and the corn was drawn into his windpipe.

SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE FOR BRITISH

London, June 6.—Belief that Great Britain can have the trade of South America for the asking, is the conviction which the United States has built up there during the war, was expressed by Gordon Ross, formerly financial editor of the Buenos Aires Standard, in an address he delivered here recently. Mr. Ross is quoted as saying that there is in some South American republics a jealous fear of the extension of the influence of the United States and he repeated the statement that it had been cynically said in South America that the Monroe Doctrine meant not so much "America for the Americans," as "America for North Americans."
Mr. Ross told his hearers that British neglect of advertising in South America had an important effect upon their trade; that it was important that catalogues should be published in the language of the people and that prices should be quoted in the currency of the country.

Woman Deputy Sheriff Quits Job for Soldier

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Chickasha, Okla., June 6.—Miss Pearl Mullican, deputy sheriff of Grady county and one of the two women under-sheriffs of Oklahoma, resigned in order that some soldier may get the job. Miss Mullican was commissioned last October, when it was found almost impossible to get men for work here. She made several arrests, although most of her work for the sheriff has been bookkeeping and stenographic work.
"Now that the war is over and the boys are fast returning home I wish to surrender my job to a returned soldier," said Miss Mullican.

Ruth Law to Follow Hawker
Chickasha.—Ruth Law has announced that in her attempted trans-Atlantic flight she will go over the route Harry Hawker attempted to use.

SOBER SECOND THOUGHT.

"On the night of March 4, a few hours before the President was to leave on his return trip to Paris, our ex-President stood on the same platform with Mr. Wilson and addressed a New York audience in advocacy of the covenant of the league of nations. Nothing was said at that meeting about the need for any revision of that document; in fact the whole tenor of the speeches by both the President and Mr. Taft was that the covenant should and must be adopted without change. In carrying out that thought the President even indulged in threats that he would so weave the covenant into the treaty that the senate would have no recourse but to adopt it.

"But soon there was published to the world the round robin that 39 republican senators had signed just before the adjournment of the congress. That declaration so clearly spelled defeat for the league that its friends hastened to qualify their endorsement of it by suggesting that certain amendments might well be made. Three days after he had walked on to the New York stage arm in arm with the President, Mr. Taft published a statement which amounted to an apology for his uncompromising attitude in support of the league, and hastened to assure the country that amendments to the covenant were quickly advisable but absolutely necessary.

"It should be borne in mind," Mr. Taft hastened to explain, "that the present covenant is merely a report from a committee of the conference. . . . Undoubtedly the covenant needs revision. It is not symmetrical, its meaning has to be dug out and the language is ponderous and in diplomatic phrase."

"The belated objections of Mr. Taft were well taken, and if the country was in any real danger of having the league foisted upon it the changes he suggested should be incorporated in it. But the ex-President's comments are quoted to show the vacillation that characterizes the utterances of all the league advocates. They are for a league at any price, and run the gamut of the arguments that seem to have the ascendancy at the moment, with best promise of success.

"No recourse is had to argument by Mr. Taft and others who conduct themselves in that way. Like the street vendor of a patent medicine who invites purchases on the strength of his mere statement that the concoction will cure, Mr. Taft and his countrymen accept the league on his unsupported, and, in fact, disproved, assertion that it will bring universal peace. The marvel is that the league ever received the support that it once had; but that is accounted for largely by the former high standing of the men who were behind it. Mr. Taft, for instance, did not hesitate to lend the prestige of his position as our only ex-President to the league propaganda, and that possibly was sufficient in the entire absence of supporting argument to win to the cause those who are not in the habit of relying on independent thought and drawing their own conclusions.

"But the bubble has burst. Taken at first by surprise in the sudden and overwhelming propaganda campaign that flooded the surface of the country, the trait of independence of thought and action has emerged triumphant, marking the complete defeat of those who would induce us to surrender our birthright of liberty for the potage of assisting in the permanent policing of Europe, Asia, and the world."

CLOSE TO THE WORLD.

Readers of The Gazette regaled daily in their homes or offices through these columns with exact, impartial and interesting accounts of happenings here, there and everywhere, possibly often wonder at the means by which these results are obtained and how a paper in the local field obtains a report of the daily doings of the world as comprehensive as that available to the greatest papers in the largest cities on the continent.

The answer is contained in the caption, "By The Associated Press." These few words, to the initiated, means that in addition to the high class reportorial staff known to the community, The Gazette has another staff composed of the keenest and best newspaper men in the world; a staff that instead of being confined to one city is everywhere in its territory and does report on the spot the action of a city council a hundred miles from here and the deliberations of a peace commission sitting half a world away; that is on duty twenty-four hours in the day on the Mexican border and the Arctic circle; that is as much at home in the tropical jungles or a front line trench as our city hall man is in the ante-room of the mayor's office.

"By The Associated Press," seen in these columns, reflects the co-ordination of more than eleven hundred newspapers of the United States in a mutual association by which each individual paper becomes the servant of all, and all the servants of each. The great metropolitan publications with their enormous staffs and facilities, are at the service of the small town daily. The small daily is also bound in honor in the service of the greater publications. Each places at the disposal of the other, through the medium of The Associated Press, the important happenings of its locality.

In addition, through its membership in The Associated Press, each member paper has also the service of numerous correspondents in other lands, some of them employees of news agencies with which The Associated Press has working affiliations, and others, staff men of The Associated Press itself.

As a member of this great co-operative organization and under the caption, "By The Associated Press," The Gazette is able to place before its readers each day the cream of the world news, with absolute assurance that fact and not fancy, truth and not falsehood, is being printed.

HELP THE SCOUTS.
 Janesville should encourage the Boy Scouts. It is an organization whose aims are to make better citizens. If these aims are carried out, the whole community is going to benefit. The organization in this city is not as strong as it should be and the fault lies, perhaps to a great extent, to the fact that the men and women who could lend strength have not given the matter serious thought.

It has been proven time and time again that the greatest asset a city has is its citizens. The young men of a city make it what it is. If they are good, bright fellows with lots of ginger, clean in their habits and unselfish in their daily lives, the city is going to be prosperous, bright and clean. If they are careless, tough and irresponsible the city will be tough.

The time to prepare the youth for the future is when they are at an age of the average Boy Scout. Then their lives can be more easily moulded. Many a boy who has gone wrong could have been saved if some such organization as the scouts had claimed his attention and won him away from the tough gang that hangs out on some corner.

The aims and ideals of the Boy Scouts are high. They are not bound by any creeds or religions. Boys of all denominations can be members. Their work and play is wholesome and uplifting. Their constant touch with nature makes them in after life bigger and better fellows.

Janesville can afford to spend some money in organizing the Boy Scouts to full capacity. The business men of this city can afford to raise any funds necessary to carry on the work. They can afford to provide a man who will place the Boy Scout work on a firm foundation.

Next week is Scout week. This would be a time to give the encouragement needed to build up the organization.

 The raising of cloves will become a non-essential occupation. Enterprising buyers will be able to get a lot of good white jackets cheap. There will also be a bumper second-hand apron crop.

"AN ODE OF THE AIR."
 A whirling airplane, of golden hue,
 Went winging to the sea.
 By chance an eagle, out for prey,
 Flew side by side, scourge and free.

Above the shimmering rays of sunset
 The plane gained speed and height—hastening landward,
 And the eagle, in the shades of night,
 Was lost in the shadows of night.

Reports say that when the chairman of the German delegation made his speech at Versailles his knees were weak but his voice was strong. Which reminds us of Col. Walter Juan Davis' famous poem about the hangover.

A gentleman stepped up to a member of a fighting Irish regiment when the boys were standing at parade rest. "Heaven bless the Irish," he said, "and what might your name be, young man?" "Sam Rosenbaum," was the reply.

Sketches From Life -- By Temple

WHO'S WHO in the Daily News

VISCOUNT ISHI.
 The announcement by the state department that there were no differences between our government and that of Japan and that Viscount Ishi, the Japanese ambassador, had not been ordered home by his government, but was going to his native land for the purpose of conferring with his government, was a most satisfactory one to the friendly relations that have existed between these two countries.

Viscount Ishi has been helpful in bringing about an understanding not only between the United States and Japanese governments, but also instrumental in convincing the people of the United States that the Japanese consider America their friend. Since his arrival in the United States in June, 1917, as head of the Japanese war mission, Viscount Ishi at every opportunity has spoken of "closer ties between the United States and Japan," "closer concord between Japan and the United States," and on several occasions declared that German agents had poisoned the minds of the United States and Japan against each other. It was because of the wonderful reception the Viscount received in this country as head of the war mission that his government selected him for its ambassador to the United States.

And since his appointment as Japanese ambassador to the United States, Viscount Ishi has left no stone unturned to maintain friendly relations between the two countries. He and Secretary Lansing are the closest of friends. It was through his friendship that the new famous Lansing ship agreement, by which we recognize the interests of Japan in the Far East as being paramount, was drawn up.

Although Viscount Kikupito Ishi is best known as a diplomat, this does not detract from his reputation as a good mixer in all classes of society. Throughout his native land he is regarded as a first-around man. He is a man of the people, having been elevated to a peerage in recognition of distinguished services to his country, including investigation of the country of Japanese in the United States and Canada.

Viscount Ishi was born at Chiba in 1866, the second son of a wealthy farmer. He took a course in English law at Imperial university, Tokyo, graduating in 1890. Soon after graduation he entered the diplomatic service, being appointed attaché of the Japanese embassy at Paris. He was later made secretary. He represented his government as consul at Chemulpo, Korea, in 1898, and the following year was sent to Tokyo as secretary of the Japanese legation. At the time of the Boxer uprising he was among the besieged, and when peace was restored he was called back to Tokyo to take a place in the foreign office. He occupied successively as secretary of the foreign office, the posts of chief of the telegraphic section and director of the commercial affairs bureau.

In July, 1907, he was promoted to minister. He was named ambassador to France in 1912, and he became foreign minister in 1915. He resigned with the fall of the Okuma ministry in 1916 and soon afterward member of the house of peers.

Dr. Renner, Austrian Delegate, in St. Germain near, chance of German-Austria and head of that country's peace delegation, who with five colleagues has been at Feldkirch for a conference with Dr. Otto Bauer, the German-Austrian foreign minister, is expected arrive here tomorrow.

YANKS IGNORE FOR RHINE PRESIDENT

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
 Coblenz, Wednesday, June 4.—American authorities here have sent word to the over president of the Rhine province to ignore orders from Berlin transferring him to another province. The Americans believing that this move was a political one and connected with Berlin's efforts to counteract the movement for the establishment of a Rhish republic. It was declared in Wiesbaden Sunday that Berlin had also ordered the removal of the over president of the Theres district and that the Americans had instructed this official to ignore his instructions from Berlin.

Just what bearing the German government's endeavor to change officials at this time has on the republican movement Americans are not certain. Five political parties in this city have combined in issuing a proclamation protesting against the repatriation of the Rhineland from Germany.

FRECKLES

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There is no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots. Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it at night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful, clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

LUTHERAN CHURCHES TO HOLD CONVENTION

Carl Schoof has been elected as the delegate who will represent the St. Peters English Lutheran church, at the convention of the English Lutheran Synod of the northwest which will be held at Milwaukee, the second week in June. Each church elects one delegate as a representative who with the pastor of the church attends the convention for one week.

This energetic body spreads over a vast inland empire embracing congregations in Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana and Canada. The central theme of the convention will be the problem of reconstruction, this being the first meeting since the signing of the armistice. Social, religious, and economic reconstruction in America and Europe will be discussed. Two monster mass meetings, one a clergy's and the other a layman's rally will be held.

The convention will open Tuesday in the Church of the Reformation and will continue throughout the week.

Salvation Army is to Preserve Bar for Laborers

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
Boston, June 6.—The Salvation Army has had no new success. It has only done an old thing in an old way.

So spoke Commander Evangeline Barth in Boston, discussing the war work done by the Salvation Army in France.

"The saloon goes," said she, "and in its place, put there by the Salvation Army, will come, all over the country, workmen's clubs, where drinks and refreshments and reading and writing and music will comfort the tired man who needs comfort."

"We are negotiating for thousands of these places. We have bought up many of the old saloons that were in good condition. And, in managing them, not our scruples, not old prejudices, but the customs and habits of the workmen are to be considered. If a man prefers to take his refreshment with a foot against the rail, he will have a rail."

"Artistic Temperament" Gets Best of Audience

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
Springfield, Ill., June 6.—Temperament in a noted violinist got the best of an audience here. The fiddle virtuoso was playing a selection of "Cannon d'Amor," before an assembly at the Lyric Opera house. Some one shuffled their feet. The played struck a "blue" note. Then some one whispered, "Laying his violin on a nearby table, the artistly entertainer said: 'Either you or I will make the noise in this concert. If you insist on talking while I play, then I shall quit playing, or you shall go outside to talk.'"

Nobody went outside and the playing continued in quietness.

Coal Supply Decreases; Was Thought Inexhaustible

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
Pittsburgh, Pa., June 6.—The coal resources of Western Pennsylvania, which at one time were thought to be inexhaustible, will be almost completely exhausted in 60 years, according to E. M. Herr, president of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. Mr. Herr declared that not only the Pennsylvania coal fields were running out but that other newer fields had suffered unexpected inroads due to increased production demanded by the war.

Oregon Securities Are Secreted From Thieves

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
Salem, Ore., June 6.—State officials, apprehensive because of the large bank and post office robberies of late, have removed the State's valuables, some $2,000,000 in negotiable securities from the vaults of the capitol to parts unknown.

"No use in tempting the boys," said State Treasurer Hoff, in explanation.

The sessions will be held at the city's new auditorium. A big outing for the afternoon of the closing day is being planned. This will be the first meeting of the lagot in two years.

Overseas Nurse Dies
Eau Claire, June 6.—Anne Cosgrove, this city, Red Cross nurse, is dead at New York City, according to word received by relatives here. Miss Cosgrove left for France as a Red Cross nurse over a year ago. She saw six months' hard service near the front. Her service was interrupted when she suffered a paralytic stroke and when she had partly recovered she was brought to America and placed in a debarkation hospital at New York, where her death followed. She will be buried here with military honors.

Wakes Off Dock; Drowns
Mantowoc, June 6.—John C. Miller, 26, an Owatonna, Minn., man, who has been employed by the local shipyards for the last three years as a machinist, walked off the dock here and was drowned in the river. The body was recovered. The body will be shipped to his home at Owatonna, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, reside on a farm.

Want Saloon Licenses
Mantowoc, June 6.—Twenty-three saloon keepers of this city are willing to take a chance and have filed applications for saloon licenses for the coming year. They expect that some action will be taken by the city council to re-imburse them if the dry amendment takes effect in January, 1920. They express no fear that the country is to be dry on July 1.

Wedding License Issued to Mutes via Fingers

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Waukegan, Ill., June 6.—Hyman Bernstein, Salt Lake City, and Charlotte M. Taylor, Chicago, deaf and dumb couple, were married here. When they applied for a marriage license at the county clerk's office the clerk evaded with his fingers until some of the digits threatened to become disjoined in eliciting the usual questions and answers. He then got the information that Bernstein was 35 years of age and Miss Taylor 31. Then, under the kindly tow of a constable, they traversed to a justice of the peace, who, with the aid of his fingers, thumbs, pad and pencil and a few other accessories for transmitting intelligence, united the two in the holy bonds of matrimony.

Too Much Water in Booze is Rush Hour Complaint

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Steubenville, Ohio, June 6.—City officials and members of the city board have received scores of complaints that in the rush hours prior to the closing of the saloons here "watered" liquor was sold. One man who complained said that he drank two quarts of the stuff at one sitting and that the liquor had no more "kick" than if it were lemonade.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

The recent municipal primary vote granted the white women of Atlanta, Georgia, the right of equal suffrage. This is the second city of Georgia, a state supposed to be locked and barred against equal suffrage, to grant city primary suffrage to women. There was only one dissenting voice when the Democratic party committee of Atlanta bestowed the right on the white women.

Miss Eleanor Raoul, a young woman law student in Atlanta and former member of the National American Woman Suffrage association's research bureau, was one of the most ardent workers for the women and here is what she said at the close of the fight: "No speeches were made against suffrage and the whole atmosphere was cordial and pleasant. This was quite a surprise to me as I have not been in close touch with suffrage work since I left the national office and I expected the kind of reception that I had formerly been familiar with. All the men had just as good a time as when they were against suffrage and if they had known how easy it was and how pleased they were going to feel with themselves they would never have let the grass grow under their feet as they did."

"Theoretically we have obtained a small share of what we should have, but practically we have, as far as municipal politics goes, gained as much as we would have under broader rights because Georgia's supposed to be barred against suffrage is the way Miss Raoul looks at the achievement."

CHINESE WOMEN LOOK TO U. S.
A woman's campaign in China is looking to American women for leadership. This is the message brought recently to this country by Miss Esther Anderson, here to attend the meeting of the national staff of the Young Women's Christian Association.

"Chinese women have fantastic notions of what constitutes the freedom of the American women," she said. "They trust us entirely and for that reason there should be American women on the ground to help the oriental sisters keep pace with the political progress to be made there within the next few years."

"We should be with them to interpret to them the best in American womanhood so that they may not adopt gun chewing, cigar smoking,

K. of C. Will Erect Two Buildings at Panama

Arlington, Mass., June 6.—James M. Mead, state treasurer of the Knights of Columbus, has left for Panama to superintend the construction for the national K. of C. of two buildings at either end of the Canal zone, which are to be used as welfare centers for United States soldiers and sailors.

These buildings are to be erected at once, one at Cristobal, on the Atlantic side, and the other at Balboa, on the Pacific. They are to be of concrete and will cost in the vicinity of $40,000 each. They are to be so appointed and equipped as to meet the recreational, amusement and educational of the 25,000 men of the service who are practically isolated in the Canal zone, and it is expected, will prove an agency of great moral betterment.

Live Pelican Captured; Beak 18 Inches Long

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Knoxville, Tenn., June 6.—Ed Chapman, a farmer living 10 miles east of this city, captured a live pelican on the Des Moines river while out in a motor boat. The bird is a European pelican, and evidently had been injured, as it was unable to fly. Mr. Chapman is keeping the bird. It measured 8 feet 6 inches from tip to tip and had a beak 18 inches long.

Meet Only in Hospital

Glidden, Iowa, June 6.—Glidden recovered a coincidence in the welcome home of two of her soldier boys. The two, Robert Dillavon and Levi Chapin, of the Sixteenth Infantry, enlisted here the same day and were assigned to the same regiment they did not see each other while in France until last September, when Chapin, taken sick and sent to the hospital, found Dillavon. Both were there suffering from three wounds received in July. That was the last time they saw each other until they stepped from the same train here. Both were discharged at the same camp and evidently traveled home on the same train, but without meeting.

DICE OF DESTINY

There was a little creak, and the panel slid back into the wall, showing a narrow doorway, a narrow passageway beyond. There were candles burning there, their steady flames casting a clear, yellow light.

"Each man keep three feet behind the man in front of him," whispered Stanway. "We must have room. Vidal, Gaucha, come just behind me."

He stepped through the door into the two-foot wide hallway which ran along inside the wall, its trend eastward and downward. There were no steps, but the slant led quickly under the foundations of the great adobe building.

Stanway passed the first candle set into a niche in the rough wood wall. Already he felt that he must be below the level of the floor when he came to the second candle. Here the flame was less steady, a little breath of air playing with it.

He turned a corner, the hallway opened up suddenly into a small, rough-walled room some eight or ten feet square.

Across the room was a heavy barred door; in the center of the door was a couch, and on the couch a man was lying upon his back, his hands clasped behind his head, a cigarette between his lips.

Stanway was in the room, noiseless in his stockinged feet, Vidal at his side. Gaucha was entering when the man heard, turned quickly, and saw them. He sprang to his feet.

But the cry rising to his lips was choked back in his throat by the hard hands of the rancher. The struggle ended almost as soon as it began.

But some sound of the brief scuffle must have penetrated to the other side of the oak door. Before the rest of

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified Cocoon Oil Shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified Cocoon Oil Shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Woman Thinks She Can't Talk Enough

"I had gall stones for 14 years and suffered severely from gas, colic and indigestion. Doctors wanted me to go to the hospital, but I took Mayr's Wonderful Remedy instead, and am now feeling fine and better than I ever did. I can't talk enough about this remedy." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. the vaqueros could crowd into the little room the door had been jerked open, a dark, bearded face showed at the crack.

There was a startled curse, the door slammed shut, and there was the sound of other bars lifted across it upon the other side.

"Your axes!" shouted Stanway, leaping to one side to make room. "Vidal, you take one. Get it down, quick!"

But, even to the attack of the great arms of Vidal and another of the cowboys, the great thick door stood defiant as the swift seconds fled by. From the other side came the sound of quick, snapping voices, of scurrying feet, the sound of a cry which tingled through Stanway's blood and sent Vidal with redoubled vigor to the onslaught on the door.

At last the door fell. Stanway and Vidal, side by side, leaped through. There was another hall, wider than the first, shorter. At the end of the hall another door, studded with nails, barred upon the farther side.

Evidently there had been a second guard here, evidently in the next room were the prisoners.

"De la Guerra!" shouted Stanway.

"Teresa!"

There was no answer, no sound.

"Smash in the door!" he yelled.

"Quick! Gaucha, go upstairs. Tell them what has happened. Let them watch out. Order the first man who appears to be shot if he makes a move toward a gun or to escape. Run, Gaucha!"

Before Gaucha had turned to obey, before Stanway's echoing words sank into silence, there came from beyond the door an exclamation of terror, a sudden cry, and the reverberating crack of a revolver.

Then brief silence again for a moment which seemed long, and the blows of two axes, ripping and tearing at the oak planks of the door.

CHAPTER XII.

The Señor Again.

With splinters flying, shocked upon its heavy hinges, the great oak door was open. Stanway slipped through; Vidal, his deep chest panting from his Herculean labor, at still gripped in an enormous hand, came after him, his fellows crowding after them.

A large room this time, some thirty feet square, furnished with blankets, scattered morsels of bread and meat, showing that here Torre's men had been. A glance showed that the room was empty of human occupants; a second glance found one man lying close to the wall, limp and inert, a red stain upon his breast.

Stanway ran to him, stooped, stood straight with a little grunt of satisfaction. It was not any one of the De la Guerra household.

"Shot accidentally by one of his fellows," he muttered. "Or else De la Guerra has got his hands on a revolver."

A door at the far side of the room stood open; a candle still burned brightly upon a little stand. There had been no time lost in leaving.

"I hear men running yonder!" Vidal's big finger pointed through the open door. "Come, comrades!"

They ran with him, crowding together.

Again there was a hallway, this one far down under the main floor and so wide that three men might pass abreast through it. There came a sharp turn, the footsteps were louder, men were running toward them. And then, as several men shot into view:

"Stop!" cried Stanway. "Idly, his hand knocking Vidal's weapon upward. "It is Gaucha and his men!"

"Where are they?" cried Gaucha, excitedly. "The master? The senorita? You did not find them?"

"You did not meet them?" in a sharp cry from the rancher.

"We met no one!" Gaucha answered, a look of wonder in his eyes.

"Then there is another door. They have fooled us. Come! They can't get out of the house!"

They turned, rushing back toward the room they had just quitted. And at the instant Stanway plunged back through the doorway he knew where were these men of Torre's.

For he heard Torre's voice shouting loudly just above his head where he had already judged the drawing room must be; he knew that through some other passageway the men they had thought to trap had made their way there, and he remembered that his own orders had been for one man only to watch over the bound Torre and Juarez.

"Nunez! Castro!" Torre was calling, his tones ringing out clear, the tones of command, calling for haste, for swift obedience. "There is one man here only. Kill him! Ah!"

There was the crack of a revolver, a cry, the sound of a body falling.

"Now!" and again Torre's voice rang triumphant. "Cut these damned ropes, Castro! You others free Juarez. Watch the doors. Guard the passageway. By the lord of hell, we'll win this game yet!"

Dinner Stories

Two American negro soldiers were discussing musical instruments. "Yar," said one, "Ise gwine ter git me a eucalypsis."

"A what?" queried the other.

"A eucalypsis—dat's a musical instrument, fool."

"Go on, nigger! You can't kid me—dat's one of de books ob de Bible."

Douglas, aged seven, did not like the idea of guardian angels watching over him while he slept.

One night his mother found on his pillow a big, black falseface—a souvenir of Halloween—and at the foot of the bed, under the covers, the child himself, resting comfortably.

She asked him what was the matter—why he preferred to sleep upside down, and what was the idea of the falseface.

"I'm just playing a little joke on the Lord. I'm sick and tired of having those old guardian angels watch me the minute I get to sleep!"

Little Pete had been a very bad boy. His father had heard him using some unusually lurid cuss words, and in order to punish him had placed the lad under a barrel, there to remain without his dinner.

But sister Annabelle Marie felt so sorry for Brother Pete she resolved to go to him and try to console him.

"Couldn't you get me something to eat?" asked Pete through the bung-hole.

"I'll go and see," said Annabelle Marie.

In a few moments Annabelle Marie came back and said through the bung-hole:

"I'm sorry, Pete, but the only thing I could find was some bean soup and some custard pie."

You Need Not Suffer from Catarrh

But You Must Drive It Out of Your Blood to Get Rid of It Permanently.

You have probably been in the habit of applying external treatments, trying to cure your catarrh. You have used sprays, washes and lotions and possibly been temporarily relieved. But after a short time you had another attack and wondered why. You must realize that catarrh is an infection of the blood and to get permanent relief the catarrh infection must be driven out of the blood. The quicker you come to understand this the quicker you will get it out of your system. S. S. S., which has been in constant use for over fifty years, will drive the catarrhal poisons out of your blood, purifying and strengthening it, so it will carry vigor and health to the mucous membranes on its journeys through your body and nature will soon restore you to health. You will be relieved of the droppings of mucus in your throat, sores in nostrils, bad breath, hawking and spitting.

All reputable druggists carry S. S. S. in stock and we recommend you give it a trial immediately.

The chief medical adviser of the Company will cheerfully answer all letters on the subject. There is no charge for the medical advice. Address: S. S. S. Specific Company, 251 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

THE DOT DRAWING CLASS

"Now that I have bought a hair brush," said the Dot Drawing teacher, "it is the end of the boys comes to the class with his hair neatly combed. And that strikes me as queer, which word commences with 'q', which is our lesson for today. I knew a boy who wished his ears were flat and smooth when his mother washed them and when he grew older he trained his hair to grow over them. No, if you will complete the dots very carefully, you will find that while the boy was not a saint the style was rather."

Biggest Crowd of Season Is Expected Next Sunday

By George McManus

CRODAN AND COHORTS IN A-1 SHAPE FOR CONTEST

(By KID RIFE.)
When the All-American Giants and the Janesville Lawrence Lunch nine take the field at the fair grounds Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the largest crowd of the season will be on hand to see the performance. It is expected. Special street car and taxi service will be provided to handle the crowd. Cars will leave the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets for the grounds every 10 minutes.

An added attraction Manager Murphy is arranging for a double-header. The Junior All-Stars, one of the fastest junior nines in the city, will meet the Edgerton Outlaws at the fair grounds, the game starting at 1 o'clock. At the end of this game the Giants and Janesville will indulge in a short workout before the "rumps" order "Play ball!" at three bells.

There will be spectators out at the fair grounds Sunday who have not seen a baseball game this year—some of them for nearly two years. Once they have seen the Janesville action it is a safe bet they will be steady customers. That's what will make baseball hot.

Old Card Rooters Back.
Loyal rooters for the old Janesville Cardinals are ready to support the Janesville team. The Walworth signed for the club. The Walworth, just released from the navy, is in perfect condition and should make the negroes bite the atmosphere Sunday. Crodan pitched good ball for the Cardinals here two years ago when Janesville was in the Central State League. This will be his first appearance on the mound here since that time although he has been playing ball regularly since the 1917 season closed.

Tommy Croake will be his battery mate. Croake is without a doubt one of the best catchers in this section and on this end of the line there should be no cause for worry.

"Tiddles" Pierce will cover short with giant Roy Morrison on the left. The back ready to enter in the high and wide ones. Miller will be shifted to right field to take the place of Rice, who cannot be on the job Sunday. "Moose" Kleinhaus, the Madison star who knocked Wooten all over the lot when the Janesville team played the Fairgrounds, will hold down second base in Miller's place. Dopp will perform at the far corner.

With Vinoy covering left field, Karkuske in center, and Miller in right it's a sure thing there will be no errors in the outfield.

Unless rain prevents the Janesville will hold their second practice of the week at the fair grounds at 6:30 to-night.

Two other games are on the docket for local teams Sunday. The All-Stars will meet the Beloit Colored Giants in the third and deciding game of the series at Bailey's diamond at 2 o'clock or later will pitch for the Stars.

The St. Paul Rails will endeavor to annex another victory when they take on the Beloit Cubs at the Gateway city. A number of railroad men are planning to make the trip with the team.

The Blackhawks will probably be idle Sunday. Manager Doran is trying to arrange for a game with the Janesville, but as Manager Murphy has all his dates filled up until July 4, it will be necessary to play the game next month.

WILLARD IN NEED OF PEPPY PARTNER

(By ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Toledo, Ohio, June 6.—Sparring partners capable of handing out punishment instead of absorbing it is the paramount need in Jess Willard's training camp. The champion is in need of a hardened condition for his championship contest with Jack Dempsey here July 4, boxing experts declared today.

Willard can stand with his hands at his sides, if he so desires and allow the present sparring partners to drive blows at his jaw and stomach without apparent effect but sporting experts said that as the champion's training camp is in the hands of the trainer, Dempsey begins shooting his gloved fists at him.

Ray O. Archer, manager of the heavyweight champion, who is in New York today to locate one and perhaps two sparring partners capable of trading wallops with Willard instead of being on the receiving end.

Jack Dempsey is spending the last day of his "vacation" today. The challenger already chafing under the restraint of idleness, will resume his conditioning.

TENNIS COURTS WILL BE FINISHED MONDAY

The Y. M. C. A. tennis courts will be ready for use Monday. Physical Director W. P. Craig stated today. Rain and a lack of labor have slowed up the work of putting the courts in shape this week, but it is hoped to finish the job tomorrow.

The city street roller will be secured to clean up the rough spots, making the courts the finest in the city.

HERE'S LAYOUT OF ARENA FOR WILLARD-DEMPEY BOUT

Diagram of arena being constructed, to accommodate fans at Willard-Dempsey fight at Bay View Park, Toledo, July 4.

The above drawing looks like a spider's web at first glance, but it really is the architect's drawing of the mammoth stadium being constructed to accommodate the crowd at the heavyweight bout between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey at Bay View Park, Toledo, July 4. The seats in the ring-side divisions, as the drawing indicates, cost $60. The distances from the ring to the other priced seats are: Seventy-three feet to $50 seats, seventy-six feet to $40 seats, 114 feet to $30 seats, 132 feet to $25 seats, 176 feet to $15 seats and 232 feet to $10 seats. The $10 seats are the cheapest ones sold.

SPORT SNAP-SHOTS

BY JACK KEENE.

Asia found a place on the map of the trotting turf when Svec recently trotted a mile in 2:07 1/2 at Onak, Siberia. Svec is one of the horses that were shipped across the Ural mountains after the upheavals in Petrograd and Moscow, and at Onak, under the protection of the government set up by Admiral Kolchak, he succeeded in making a record of 2:07 1/2. At the same time he also placed his name at the top of the Russian breeders, the limit prior to his performance being 2:08, which was made by Prostee at Moscow. This 2:08 is also the European record, and when Supplanted the 2:08 1/2 made by Silke when he won the Sommer prize at Vienna in 1908. Svec is by Zanicel, 2:11 1/2, a son of Quarter Cousin.

Unaware of the rule by which all fair drives which hit the upper tier of the right field wing of the Polo grounds go for home runs, whether or not the ball glances back upon the field, Casey Stengel uselessly expended considerable energy in a recent game between the Giants and Pirates. In the eighth inning, with George Burns on second base, Hal Chase slammed the ball against the upper tier, and as the pellet caromed off Stengel made a lunge for it, thinking to head off Chase at second base. Missing the ball in his first dive, Stengel plunged his head into the ground, picked himself and the ball up and hurried the leather to Terry, who was covering the keynote sack, in time to halt Chase's progress. When Hal, ignoring Terry's possession of the ball, continued blissfully on his way, it dawned on Stengel that he had been laboring under a delusion.

Johnny Lavan, erstwhile Brownie shortstop, later with Washington, and said to be worked for the St. Louis Cardinals, was out for a few days with the St. Louis Browns, who were waiting for completion of the deal. But he enjoyed the club's hospitality only until Phil Ball, owner of the Browns, heard about it. After telling Lavan that he admired his nerve Phil told the player to move along to some other park if he wanted to do any ball playing. It will be remembered that Lavan brought suit against Ball a little more than a year ago, the same resulting in his transfer to Washington. Del Pratt brought suit at the same time and he was shipped to the Yankees.

Gama, world renowned wrestler of India, who battled Stanislaus Zbyszko, the Polish champion, to a draw, and who won the decision after two hours and 38 minutes in London, is coming to America to meet all comers in a campaign for the world's championship.

Emil Klank, manager of Frank Gotch in most all of his great battles, extending over a period of more than a decade, has signed this grapple to contract and passpows have been obtained for his entry at New York along with his trainer. The pair will arrive in the United States in October. Klank, to protect himself against possible loss, is having Gama insured for $25,000.

LAKOTA CLUB WILL HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC AT LAKE KOSHKONONG

Lake Koshkonong in the vicinity of Charlie Bluff is going to be a busy place Wednesday. On that day nearly 200 members of the Lakota club will journey to the lake for the annual outing. It is going to be a gala day for the Lakotas and several out of town members are expected to return to join in the festivities.

According to the plans being made the club members will leave early in the morning and will arrive at Koshkonong by 10 o'clock. The picnic on the program is a baseball game with Koshkonong pitching for Kosh's Colts. Roy (Mortet) Merrick, chairman of the committee in charge of the picnic, said today that the expected crowd of all kinds including swimming and boat races will be held during the day and one of the big features will be the "feed."

SOLDIERS ARRESTED AFTER FIGHT ON CAR

A near riot resulted on the interurbans on which left this city at 11 o'clock last night for Beloit when John Flanagan, a Camp Grant soldier, and William Davis, Rockford, started a battle. Both men were taken to the hospital at Beloit and Conductor D. Warren has filed a formal complaint.

According to the story told by Conductor Warren the men were both intoxicated and after a short time they started to use their fists. Both men were taken before Judge Clark, Beloit, and their hearing set for next Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

BUD'S SPECIAL DIET.

Aint fond of potatoes much. An' parsnips I don't like at all; Don't care for spargagus an' such Green stuff we have when strangers call. Though Ma says they are good for me.

An' allus piles my plate up high With vegetables, I can't see Why I can't live on apple pie.

I never pass my plate for more When we have splanish, you can bet, An' carrots I'm not asking for— Enough of them I always get. I don't care much for bread an' meat, An' just as soon they'd pass me by, But I can't get enough to eat Whenever we have apple pie.

Ma makes me eat a lot of stuff, Then I'd get out, if I could. She says I never eat enough. Or things that really do me good. She allus butters bread for me An' I can't see the reason why. A dandy eater I would be If all we had wuz apple pie.

When I grow up to be a man An' have a little boy, eight, I'll never put potatoes on. A lot of carrots on his plate. Becoz I know just how that feels. An' I won't want to make him cry? When he gets now to eat his meals I'll fill him up on apple pie.

Curiosity Proves Fatal; Lad Killed by Gas Fumes

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.] Carleville, Ill., June 6.—Curiosity spelled death for James Slabi. He and other companions were playing near an old abandoned coal mine. Slabi opened a copper boiler at the bottom of the shaft. He wanted to see what a rope he tied it about his waist and with the aid of the boys was lowered into the shaft. A few minutes after he began to cry for help. When his companions pulled the rope up he had unlabeled it. The cries continued. Then one of the boys volunteered to go to Slabi's rescue. The rope was tied about his waist and he entered the opening. Shortly after he was too bogged to call for aid. On being brought to the surface the rescuer was revived from poisonous gas fumes with difficulty. When Slabi's body was finally recovered he was dead.

Discovers How to Make "Real" Mother-of-Pearl

London, June 6.—The secret of another German key industry has been discovered, the manufacture of artificial mother-of-pearl. J. W. H. Dew, a fellow of the Royal Society of Arts, found the process after much patient experimenting.

Dr. Dew was engaged during the whole period of the war in reconstructing, step by step, the method of manufacture.

Artificial mother-of-pearl is used for making fancy buttons, dress trimmings and many other articles. Before the war most of it came from Germany.

Subs on Southern Rivers to Appear in Near Future

Knoxville, Tenn., June 6.—A fleet of submarine chasers will appear on the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers in the near future. The United States navy is now assembling an anti-submarine flotilla to make a trip on the Mississippi and its tributaries, according to information received by the recruiting station here.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] London, June 6.—The bolsheviks have recaptured Sarapul, on the Kazan river southwest of Perm, which was one of the important towns taken by Admiral Kolchak's forces in their spring advance. A bolshevik wireless message claims: "The dispatch also asserts that the bolsheviks are continuing to advance in this region."

Aided by Germans.

Stockholm, June 6.—German forces on the Estonian front are said to be aiding the bolsheviks in an official statement issued at Estonian headquarters. The statement says: "There was violent fighting on the Gatchina front throughout Tuesday and the battle was renewed Wednesday. On the southern front the German landwehr is trying to advance to our line."

Berlin Firms Boycott Imperial Defense Men

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Berlin, June 6.—Certain Berlin firms have for sometime carried on a secret boycott against men of the imperial defense forces and at last one of the firms openly stated that it discharged two men because they had served with these troops. Herr Noske, minister of national defense, has branded this as a reason. After his statement had been made public the men were reinstated.

S. S. WORKERS TO CONVEY IN BELOIT

The annual convention of the Wisconsin State Sunday School association will be held in Beloit, June 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 1919. The state are to be represented by delegates, of whom several hundred will be present.

A complete program has been provided carrying the most talented people engaged in Sunday school work in America. Among them are Prof. M. V. O'Shea, of the University of Wisconsin, and the staff of the Minnesota Sunday School association; Walter S. Hutton, secretary of the Iowa State Sunday School association; E. W. Halpern, of the staff of the International Sunday School association; and many others of similar noteworthiness.

A complete organization at Beloit has been at work for several months preparing for the convention. Headquarters will be the First Presbyterian church. Here all registration will be taken care of, and assignments made. At this place will be located the rest of the school and book exhibits of the various companies which publish books and supplies for Sunday school work.

A complete list of the delegates chosen for the local churches will be published at a later date.

Yanks in Coblenz Refuse to Show Posters

Paris, June 5.—American officers at Coblenz, it became known here today, have refused to display posters advertising the Rhenish republic sent them by French officers. The Americans received a bundle of five posters from the French.

Spasmotic Sermon.
A man's character is determined by what he does—his reputation by what he gets caught at.

LOOKING AROUND

NEW BELOIT CORPORATION.
Articles of incorporation of the Badger Tool company, Beloit, manufacturers of machine tools, were filed today with the register of deeds. The company is capitalized at $75,000. Incorporators are: E. E. Gardner, R. D. Gardner, and H. S. Kelly.

BOYS DISMISSED.
After receiving a severe lecture from the three Fourth Ward youths who were taken to the city hall charged with painting the benches in the Fourth ward park were dismissed. District Attorney Stanley Dunwiddie will take the matter up with their parents.

GLEE CLUB MEETS.
The Glee club will meet at the high school, Monday morning, at 10 o'clock, to rehearse the songs for commencement.

"FORWARD" COMING SOON.
"Forward," the official monthly bulletin of the Chamber of Commerce, will be issued June 15 instead of the first part of the month, as formerly. The July and August publications will also be put out on the 15th.

BUILDING COMMITTEE MEETS.
Members of the special building committee and the board of trustees of St. Patrick's church met at the rectory last evening for a discussion of the proposed $75,000 parochial school. The final draft of plans will probably be approved next week and the board will then call for bids.

SLUGGERS ARE BEATEN.
The seventh grade nine of St. Mary's parochial school defeated the Pine Street Sluggers, 9 to 3, at the Fourth ward park last evening.

AT SHORTHORN PICNIC.
Twenty-five members of the Rock County Shorthorn Breeders' association are attending the Shorthorn Breeder's picnic on the Anoka farms at Waukesha today.

SONG SHOP ORCHESTRA MAKES DEBUT TONIGHT

The Song Shop orchestra, Janesville's newest body of musicians, will make its debut at a dancing party to be given in Apollo hall, this evening, from nine until one o'clock. Three hundred invitations have been mailed out.

The orchestra is composed of seven pieces. Stanley Mumford is business manager and Reynold Krotz, leader. The personnel of the orchestra is as follows: Walter McFarland, piano; Hayden Krotz, saxophone; Manley Mumford, banjo; S. Christman, trombone; Walter Willis, Clarinet; Boyd Hill, violin; and other instruments, and Ernest Root, traps.

OBITUARY

Richard Jewell.
Richard Jewell passed away at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. W. E. Churchill, 126 Palm street, last evening at six o'clock.
The deceased was born in Quebec, Canada, Oct. 26, 1845. He came to this city in 1910, and made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Churchill.
Besides his wife, he leaves five children, all of whom are living in Canada; three sisters and two brothers in Canada; two sisters in this city, Mrs. Dan McDonald and Mrs. Albert Higgins.
Notice of the funeral will be given later.

Boy Scout News

Edited by Walter W. Peltz.

"Scouting is reestablishing itself in Europe after the pressure of the war," writes the chief scout executive, James E. West, in the Boy Scout magazine. "We get many letters from French and Belgian scout leaders telling of their efforts to get on their feet again. The letters that come to us are all warm with praise of America and Americans, and enthusiastic for scouting."

"We have just received word that 400 Cuban scouts are coming to this country to celebrate the Fourth of July and to meet our scouts. Hanis Island. They are more than welcome."

"In Spain a congress of organization interested in boys, including 10 delegates from the Boy Scout organization, has been called to meet at Madrid this summer. It looks as if the Spanish scouts were to be very active soon. We hope so. Every time the sun is shining down anywhere it means the era of good will to all mankind is nearer at hand. The scout ideal of service and brotherhood will leave the world if it has the chance to operate."

Starting Sunday, June 8, and lasting one week, there will be a drive for associate members of the Boy Scout organization. This is for parents, sisters, brothers, friends and all those interested in the organization. Membership is $1. When this is paid, the person receives a membership certificate and is then a member. Any scoutmaster will send for your certificate or a letter can be sent to Boy Scouts of America, 400 Fifth Avenue, New York City. One million associate members is the goal of national headquarters. It is hoped that in every scout's home there will be at least one associate member.

"I hope by the time you are reading this, there will be peace on the world over and you have already watched your liberty flag being hoisted up. Much enthusiasm has been shown over these liberty fire celebrations and many fine suggestions have been received for them from the field. It seems probable that the country will show thousands of scout fires this night peace is finally declared. May these fires be the symbol of the clarification of the world of the horrors of war and may scout principles be put in preventing further wars and misunderstandings among the peoples of the world." James E. West in "Official News" in Boys' Life for June.

We hear that Douglas Fairbanks and Charles Chaplin are framing up something for Boy Scout week (July 8 through 14). They are going to film a picture, the main actors being scouts.

When scouting was new in Flint, Mich., a day was set aside as Boy Scout day. On this day, every member of the Rotary club of that city marched in a big parade and afterward they went to a selected spot and built a scout lodge. The parade building of the lodge, etc., were filmed.

TROOP NEWS

Troop 4.
The meeting Wednesday was an informal one as troop 4 is just reorganizing. Sixteen scouts attended the meeting. A. C. Preston, boys' secretary at the "Y" was present and gave several ideas as to scouting in general. The older members of troop 4 will meet at the "Y" at 7:30 Monday night. A regular meeting of the troop will be held next Wednesday.

Troop 2.
At the meeting of troop 2, Wednesday, the question of new members was brought up. It is feared that troop 2 will not be able to handle all of the new members if the number continues to grow. This year's camp was discussed. An "organization committee," consisting of Myrtle Shurtliff, Chester Gessel, and Walter Peltz was appointed. This committee will decide on affiliation status. Tests were taken after the meeting. A new musician has been added to troop 2's list. He is Robert Brown. He plays a snare drum.

Members of Black Bear patrol, troop 2, No more patrol meetings until further notice. Watch these columns.

WHITEWATER HOME TALENT APPEARS IN MINSTREL SHOW

Whitewater, June 4.—The Whitewater Minstrels, composed of 25 men and 15 boys, showed in the Strand theatre, Monday and Tuesday evenings to crowded houses, the "Standing Room Only" sign being hung out at the last performance. Those taking part in the entertainment had drilled faithfully for a month or more. The grand opening overture and the closing chorus were under the able direction of Mrs. Essie Traut.

The closing farce, "The Darktown Cabaret," was drilled by Mrs. Joe Kwapp, and was staged splendidly. The "ladies" Roy Brown, Earl Frick, or Robert Wilson, John Amos, and Parnell Snyder, being gowned in regular Duff Gordon style. The end men, Frank Shepherd, Matt Conroy, Harry Bonnell, and Robert Munn, performed like professionals, their jokes literally bringing down the house.

The songs in the first part by Messrs. Shepherd, Bonnell, Joe Traut, Arthur Luman and Arthur McGraw were all well received and were beyond criticism. One of the "hits" of the first part was the song, "Bub-bles," by the twelve pianists, the boys of the first part, sung by Master Russell Snyder, who also sang "Kentucky Babe" in the second part.

Among the features were the dance a la Isadore Duncan by Arthur Luman, who was dressed for the part, and the dance by Easton Johnson and Robert Munn. The monologue by Howard Webb was one of the best of the evening. The program, it being encored enthusiastically both evenings. The "Kiss Me" song by Roy Brown and Alfred Johnson, and "I Guess She Did," by Master Ed Traut, were both screams.

The orchestra, under the leadership of Prof. E. G. Lange, played some popular airs between acts. The entertainment was gotten up by the men and boys of St. Luke's choir, assisted by some of the best local talent.

Pollack Bros. are agents for the Gazette in Whitewater and will deliver your paper each evening at 7:00 o'clock. Complaints and orders should be reported to them personally or by phone.

June Bride-elects Over for Yank Mates
Portland, Ore., June 4.—The June bride this year dons a veil of French lace a collar of Irish linen, a traveling suit of English tweed and pays tribute at least to Japanese silk.

Fifty war brides from across the seas have already arrived on the western coast, the vanguard of many, to make ready for their marriage to American soldiers. The bride-to-be are being cheered by the home service section of the Red Cross, while making ready their palaces and coats of love awaiting the release from the army of their respective bridegrooms. All the "in-laws" have welcomed their new relatives with open arms.

In 21 cases money has been given by the said "in-laws" for expenses across the seas and continent.
